

Dyntra receives Telefonica award

One of the 10 Best practice in Transparency and Good Governance 2017

Madrid, Spain – October 4th, 2018: On Tuesday, Dyntra was handed out the award as 1 of the 10 best practices of Transparency and Good Governance in Spain and Latin America for 2017. The ceremony took place at the Telefonica Building in Madrid where Erwin de Grave, International Relations Director of Dyntra, received the award by Eduardo Puig from Telefonica.

On July 3rd, 2018 Telefonica and Compromiso Empresarial publish the 10 best practices of Transparency and Good Governance, that were selected by the general public and by a jury. Along Dyntra, also BBVA, the Spanish Tax Agency (AEAT) and DKV Seguros were among the winners.

“This award is a recognition from all our work that we have been doing since we started Dyntra in September 2014. And this award will help us to push us to take even a step further by expanding the platform all over the world.” says Erwin de Grave from Dyntra.

Dyntra.org – the Social Hub of Transparency and Open Government – is an online citizen-driven platform that measures in real-time the transparency level of public and private organisations as well as their elected representatives. To this date, more than 1200 evaluators have evaluated over 4700 entities in 193 countries are in Dyntra, and more 600 media sources use Dyntra as a source.
